This will be an interactive workshop, so bring your existing Company Handbook! We will look at some of the most important policies for your handbook in 2018, and will highlight areas that may leave your company vulnerable.

Special Guest- Leslie Lasher from the Forrest Firm.

Leslie represents public and private employers and executives. She advises on issues related to compliance with state and federal employment laws, drafts and negotiates employment contracts, and defends civil, commercial, and employment law claims.

This workshop is designed for questions and interactive dialogue among the attendees and the experts.

- Seating is limited to 15 participants
- Light breakfast items will be available
- No cost to our invitees

Thank you for your participation!

Janice Lane, PHR, SHRM-CP

Janice is a North Carolina native and has been in the Human Resources field for nearly twenty years serving in different industries. She is very passionate about helping people and businesses with their HR needs whether it is dealing with recruiting, onboarding, coaching, employee relations or developing HR policies. Janice is ready to take on any task and loves a challenge.

She graduated Summa Cum Laude from University of Mount Olive with B.S. Degree in Business Administration with a minor in Human Resources. She currently holds a PHR and SHRM-CP certification. Janice is a member of the Society for Human Resources Management and Raleigh Wake Human Resources Management Association.

Leslie Lasher

Leslie Lasher is an attorney with the Forrest Firm in Raleigh, North Carolina. She primarily works with employers to create, review, implement and develop resilient employment policies and strategies. She focuses her practice on a variety of industries, including the public sector, healthcare, hospitality, Christian organizations, and start-up and growth-stage companies. Leslie regularly advises and defends employers in state and federal court, and before state and federal administrative agencies, such as the Department of Labor, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, and the National Labor Relations Board, among others.

Leslie attended Elon University where she received Bachelor of Arts degrees in public administration and political science: and later Juris Doctor, all with Cum Laude distinction. Prior to practicing with the Forrest Firm, she practiced at Teague Campbell Dennis & Gorham, where she defended private and public employers and insurers in civil, employment, worker's compensation, and medical malpractice claims. She is admitted to practice law in all North Carolina State and Federal Courts, the North Carolina Business Court, The 4th Circuit Court of Appeals, and the Supreme Court Of the United States.
